ATTENDANCE POLICY & TIME COMMITMENT: Coro uses experiential learning methodology; you will not learn from the cohort and the cohort cannot learn from you if you are not present. If a participant accumulates a total of eight (8) session absences (arriving more than 30 minutes from the start of the session or leaving more than 30 minutes prior to the end of the session will be counted as a half absence), they may be asked to leave the program. Session absences refer to program sessions, not program days (i.e. Leadership Retreat 1 has two sessions on a single day; missing both sessions would yield 2 absences). Due to the amount of content covered and the foundation laying for the program and cohort's development, attendance at the entire Program Orientation, Issue Day Orientation, and Opening Retreats Part I and Part II is required with no arriving late/leaving early. Participants should contact Coro immediately if there are any scheduling conflicts, particularly with the Program Orientation, Issue Day Orientation, and the Opening Retreats, to discuss accommodations. Aside from the calendared program components, participants will need to schedule (with their Issue Day Teams) Issue Day Planning Meetings with the Lead SoCal program facilitator totalling 8 hours spread across four (4) meetings that span the program's duration (the longest meeting lasting 3 hours). Participants should also expect additional hours planning with Issue Day teams, completing minimal pre- and post-assignments, and attending other (optional) events.

VIRTUAL COMMITMENT: The 2021-2022 Lead SoCal program is a fully virtual program, meaning participants will not be expected to be in-person at any particular location for any of the Coro-scheduled Lead SoCal programming. Issue Day teams may decide and agree to meet in-person for planning meetings, but all facilitated Issue Day planning meetings with the Lead SoCal program facilitator and the program's calendared Issue Days will be conducted virtually. Coro may schedule optional events open to the Coro community, which may be in-person. The cohort may decide and plan in-person activities, separate from the Coro-scheduled Lead SoCal programming. Attendance to such events is not mandatory for participation in Lead SoCal and is at the discretion of the participant to attend. Lead SoCal participants should be prepared to actively participate virtually with access to Zoom, GSuite, and a stable internet connection. If these pose any issues, please contact Coro so that we can make suitable arrangements to ensure your successful participation. To the best of their ability, Coro asks participants to be on-camera during program sessions.

*Please note that the Logic Study and Issue Days are two 3.5 hour sessions beginning at 9:00 AM and ending at 5:00 PM vs. the Leadership Retreats' two 3 hour sessions beginning at 9:30 AM and ending at 4:30 PM.

This calendar is subject to change prior to the start of and during the course of the program. Participants will be notified if changes are made.
